Shares Third Quarter Achievements

PORTLAND, Ore. — OCTOBER 17, 2019

Digital marketing agency Logical Position (LP) continues to make waves in the search engine marketing space while giving back to local communities around the nation. The agency was named an Inc. 5000 company for the sixth year in a row, recently hired a former Google executive, and hosted a nationwide Back to School Supply Drive benefiting Boys and Girls Clubs in seven states where the agency has offices.

Following is an overview of highlights from the third quarter of 2019.

Recent philanthropy efforts:

- Back to School Supply Drive benefiting the Boys and Girls Clubs of America At the start of the new school year, LP hosted a supply drive at all nine of its offices – and across seven states – to collect much-needed school supplies for their respective local Boys and Girls Clubs. Approximately 100 pounds of supplies was donated to children in need.
- Volunteer project benefiting Austin Parks Foundation Employees from LP's Austin, Texas office spent a recent weekend helping the nonprofit with weed removal at Barrington School Park for an outdoor classroom renovation.
- Volunteer Initiative LP launched a company-wide volunteer initiative offering all employees 40 optional paid hours for volunteering each year. The program allows LP employees to spend time during the work week volunteering at local charities throughout the country.

Recent awards and recognition:

- #1,157 in Inc. magazine's list of 5,000 Fastest Growing Private Companies for 2019 The Inc. 5000 list recognizes U.S. companies who had immense growth in 2018, and LP has been honored by Inc. for six consecutive years. The agency achieved 359% growth in just three years.
- Google Premier Partner Award Finalist, October 2019 The Google Premier Partner Awards celebrate excellence in digital marketing. LP was a finalist in the Video Excellence category which highlights expertise and creativity with Google Video Ads. The recognition verifies LP's commitment to innovation in helping its clients achieve their online goals.
